

Record Retention

Patient record retention conforms to national requirements and in accordance with Caldicott principles and General Data Protection Regulation (GDPR). The duration of retention varies regarding the subject matter and full details the times involved can be obtained directly from the laboratories.